

Fun ways to learn: Experiment

Look through different parts of the newspaper (in-print or online) for stories, features and images that spark an interest in your child and use that interest to have some fun. Here's an easy tip to help you have fun while you're helping your child learn:

Share newspaper stories about new scientific discoveries or breakthroughs with your child. Find something interesting like bugs, snowflakes, or leaves. You can use a microscope, magnifying glass or even reading glasses to get a close up look.
